Description

An Architectural Masterpiece in the Heart of Nature Nestled within a unique volcanic landscape, this majestic luxury home is situated on the historic lava flows from the 1920 eruption, surrounded by the breathtaking natural beauty of Tahiche. This property is not merely a residence; it is a visionary project that embodies a harmonious relationship with nature. Drawing inspiration from the renowned architect César Manrique, this home has undergone a comprehensive renovation that emphasizes spaciousness and natural light. By eliminating unnecessary interior divisions, the design achieves a fluid and modern layout that exudes tranquillity, exclusivity, and sophisticated style. Constructed with premium materials and a commitment to sustainability, this residence incorporates natural lava elements into its architecture. It features cutting-edge aerothermal systems for heating and hot water, complemented by a 20kw solar installation, ensuring an efficient and environmentally friendl...
